A CREDIT TO THE CITY.

An Establishment of Which Any City Might be Proud

There is located in Greensboro an establishment which is not only a credit to the city, but by reason of its magnitude and elegance is worth a trip to Greensboro from any part of the state, to see. It is replete with artistic splendor, and imposing display of all that is beautiful and useful, in the line of house furnishings. The magnificent concern to which we refer, is the splendid establishment of Mr. N. J. McDuffie, which with its plate glass front, its rich and gorgeous interior, and its almost endless stock of bewilderingly pretty articles of furniture of every conceivable variety attracts the eye of passers by.

We do not hesitate to say this establishment would be a credit to any city in the state. A view of its extensive and complete interior is calculated to impress one with being in one of the enormous places of business to be found in the north and east. Mr. McDuffie deserves the highest praise for establishing a business here of such splendid proportions. It requires the nerve and grit, and the sagacity of the true business man to accomplish what he has in a city the size of Greensboro.

Mr. McDuffie began business in this only six years ago, on a limited scale, but he has constantly increased until now his place is second to none in the state. The main store room is on the ground floor, and is filled with beautiful paterns and designs of furniture of all kinds. It would require a large space here to enumerate. A spacious ware room in the rear, and the entire second floor is stacked with every thing that can be called for in the furniture line.

Unless you see it you can hardly believe that such an enormous stock is carried by a North Carolina concern. Those who have never visited this store should call and let Mr. McDuffie show them an exhibition that is worth seeing. Read his ad on second page, and call on him.

Robbery Last Night.

A mean robbery was committed at McAdoo's stables last night, John Smith being the victim. Smith is employed at the stables and was asleep when some one sneaked up near him. He was awakened, but got only a glimpse of the man—a big negro—before he was knocked senseless by a blow on the head with a large stick. He revived in a short while and found that his clothes and shoes had been stolen. He set out in pursuit of his assailant and caught him a short distance from the stables. The negro would not give up until he was also knocked in the head. Smith, after knocking the negro down, took his clothes and went back to the stables. This morning he described the robber to Policeman Scott, who, assisted by Officer Jeffries, captured him a short while afterward. The negro gave his name as George Stratton. He was identified by Smith, and the officers locked him up.

A Small Fire.

The fire alarm wasturned in at three o'clock this morning, two small cottages, near Bennett College being on fire. The fire originated in a house occupied by Florence Hanks, colored. This was destroyed when the fire companies reached the scene, though they were just in time to save an adjoining house which was occupied by Ernest Turner. This had already caught and was partly burned, however. The loss is slight.

Violating the Law.

Some parties here are shipping quail out of the state in violation of the state law. When you ask one of these dealers the price of birds, the reply is that they are all sold. The officers are "on to the racket," and some one will soon be pulled over the coals. We want our quail for home consumption and are willing to pay fair prices for same. J. H. West.

Cure a Cold in One Day.

Take Laxative Bromo Quinine Tablets. All druggists refund money if it fails to cure. 25c. The genuine has L. B. Q. on each tablet.

"I want to get a pair of heavy tan shoes just like you sold Mr. A and Mr. B" That's the kind of talk we hear almost any day, and that's the way every pair we sell of these popular shoes brings in more customers for them. Yesterday we had a very careful customer, one who looks pretty closely after the dollars. We showed him through our line of shoes, but he concluded to look around before buying—looked the town over, came back and bought of us. That's pretty good recommendation for our shoes isn't it? Just now we have some very special values in men's heavy tan and black box calf and vici kid shoes at $2.25, $2.50 and $3.00. If you are going to buy a pair of shoes soon, you ought to see these. Thacker & Brockmann.

VIEWS OF THE MESSAGE.

How McKinley's Utterances Are Regarded in Washington.

ITEMS IN FAVOR IN THE SOUTH

Senator Pritchard and a Number of Congressmen Were Not Present At The Opening.

Special to the Telegram.

Washington, Dec. 6—There are two subjects treated in the president's message which are receiving the commendation of southern congressmen. They are the paragraphs referring to the construction of the Nicaraguan canal, and to the appointment of a commission to examine into the yellow fever subject in the south, and to devise means for preventing the introduction of the disease into the southern states in the future.

Senator Morgan, of Alabama, in speaking of the first paragraph referred to yesterday, said he thought the president's recommendations upon the construction of the canal, would go a long ways towards securing action in the present congress. So far as the senate is concerned, Senator Morgan is confident that action upon the bill now pending will be had shortly, and a bill for the construction of the canal sent to the house.

The incorporation of the paragraph relative to the yellow fever in the south, is one in which the people of the south are vitally interested, and the president's recommendations in the matter has the endorsement of all the congressmen from that section who have been seen. Of course, the gulf states are more interested in the appointment of such a commission than are the states further north, by the danger of the spread of the disease, when it gains a firm foothold in the gulf states is recognized. The paragraph with some additions is virtually the same recommendation made by President McKinley in his last annual message, but which for some reason that cannot be explained, has never been taken up for consideration by congress. The southern members are now thoroughly interested in the subject, and before many days bills in accordance with the suggestions of Mr. McKinley will be introduced in both the senate and house.

Senator Pritchard was not in the senate yesterday when congress convened. In the house, so far as could be ascertained, Representatives Strowd, Kitchin, Martin, Shuford and Linney were not present. Congressmen Skinner, White, Fowler and Pearson are in the city.

Several of the North Carolina delegation who are in the city were seen last night. Mr. Pearson commented favorably upon the message, praising the president for his disposition of the Cuban question. The message, he said as a whole is an able document. Congressman White also commented favorably upon the message, but he is disappointed at the president's failure to say something relative to the race troubles in North and South Carolina.

Several of the members of the North Carolina delegation criticize the president for failing to outline his policy regarding the Philippine and Cuban questions, and for the manner in which he relegated the matter to the future. Others, however, think that the president took the wisest course in not discussing the Philippine question while the commission at Paris is engaged in framing a treaty, as his utterance might tend to influence the work of the commission.

General Joe Wheeler was among the members on the floor of the house early yesterday. When he entered the hall he was greeted by a hearty ovation from republicans and democrats. The general stated that he was glad to be in Washington at the opening of the session, and intends to spend as much time here as is possible.

At the Court House.

The court house should be crowded on Friday evening when Dr. Alderman delivers his address on "Egypt and the Nile." It is safe to say the people of Greensboro will not have the opportunity to hear a more valuable and interesting lecture this season.

Distinguished Hunters.

John Gill, receiver of the C. F. and Y. V. R. R., Rev. Dr. Rainsford, an Episcopal minister, of New York, Mr. Frick, of Baltimore and Capt. J. W. Fry, Messrs. J. F. Jordan and F. K. Trogden, of this city, composed a party of hunters who left here at noon today, in Capt. Fry's private car, for Madison, to spend a few days shooting quail.

HIGH POINT, N. C. Dec. 6

The regular monthly meeting of the board of aldermen was held last night in the mayor's office. They transacted routine business. There being no other business the board adjourned.

We have heard of "baby wakers" for Christmas "pops," but "Buck" Johns has some "pops" for Christmas that will awaken a dead hog engine.

A box car was derailed near the Home Furniture Factory this morning causing some of Capt. Rankin's passengers to walk to the station.

A Mild Protest.

Editors Telegram:—Is there not a city ordinance prohibiting freight trains from blocking the streets longer than ten minutes at a time? And are the city authorties powerless to enforce this law?

An employee of mine tells me the Ashe street crossing was blocked this morning for nearly an hour, and that a number of people on their way to work, were forced to wait in the cold until the train got ready to move. I am told that the same place was also blocked Monday morning about 7 o'clock, and I have heard a number of complaints of the same nature, for several weeks. Cannot an officer be sent to this crossing to investigate?

Another Beauty.

It is the picture of a handsome bouquet of choice flowers, and it is so natural and real looking that we confess our inability to describe it.

The Daily Register Dead.

Columbia, S. C., Dec. 5—The Columbia Daily Register has suspended publication. The Register was the oldest newspaper in the city, dating from 1875. It changed in July last from a morning to an afternoon issue under new management, but it still continued to sink money, and its New York backers on Saturday terminated their support. Its plant has been disposed of and it will not be revived.

COURT PROCEEDINGS.

A Few Small Cases Disposed of Yesterday.

State vs J. C. Stafford, c c w, guilty; fined $10 and costs.

TUESDAY, DEC. 6, 1898.

Bishop Fitzgerald was yesterday presented with a gold pen and cut glass silver top ink fount, in a graceful little speech by Rev. Dr. Yates, who requested its use in the chapters to be devoted to North Carolina Methodism in the bishop's new book. This was a pretty incident, and shows the high appreciation in which the bishop is held by the North Carolina conference. He was so deeply moved that he was hardly able to express his thanks.

We notice that Mr. L. C. Phillips, of Eden, Randolph county, will be a candidate far engrossing clerk in the House of Representatives. Mr. Phillips is a staunch democrat and is entirely worthy of election to that important place. He is a son of the late Rev. Charles H. Phillips, familiarly known as "Uncle Charlie," who for a number of years resided and preached in this county. L. C. Phillips will be remembered as state senator from Moore and Randolph counties in the legislature of 1893.

As announced in this paper yesterday by a special from Elizabeth City the North Carolina conference has decided to establish an organ. This deal will probably reach consummation in the purchase of stock in the the North Carolina Christian Advocate and the subscription lists in the bounds of that conference. Rev. Dr T. N. Ivey was elected editor of the new paper. An honor most worthily bestowed. We shall regret to lose him and his good wife and interesting children from our city.

An attempt to put the Hancocks forward, politically, in Newbern, has aroused the indignation of the citizens of that town. Seymour Hancock, postmaster of New Bern, has also been elected attorney of the board of county commissioners for the next two years. It is also believed that a deal has been made to put in Robt. Hancock as register of deeds. Robert is the father of Seymour and is the man who was dismissed in disgrace from the presidency of the A. & N. C. Railroad. These things do not set well with the decent people of the city of Newbern, and they are about to inaugurate measures to put a stop to them.

The President's message to congress is a voluminous document, containing about twenty thousand words. It is principally a review of the war with Spain and the incidents leading up to it. The president is not very strong in his recommendations, if, indeed they may be called more than mere hints. He may be said, however, to advocate the Nicaragua canal, the holding of the Philippine Islands, the conditional independence of Cuba, a stronger navy, an army of 100,000 men, an active interest in the far east, largely increased appropriations, a change in the paper currency and the maintenance of the gold standard. We mention these things briefly as few of our readers will care to read the stupendous document through.

"Fighting Joe" Undecided.

Washington, Dec. 5—Major General Wheeler was the center of attraction and congratulation when he appeared in the House of Representatives today to resume his Congressional duties. He arrived last night from the camp in Alabama, where his troops are stationed. General Wheeler said he probably would resign from the army, but his plans were not yet definitely fixed. He expects to confer with the president and secretary of war and then will determine on his course. "If there is to be any more fighting I want to stay in the army," said the General, "but if the fighting is over, I prefer to return to civil life."

A Narrow Escape.

Thankful words written by Mrs. Ada E. Hart, of Groton, S. D. 'Was taken with a bad cold which settled on my lungs; cough set in and finally terminated in consumption. Four doctors gave me up, saying I could live but a short time. I gave myself up to my Savior, determined if I could not stay with my friends on earth, I would meet my absent ones above. My husband was advised to get Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and colds. I gave it a trial, took in all eight bottles. It has cured me, and thank God I am saved and now a well and healthy woman. Trial oottles free at C. E. Holton's drug rtore. Regular size 50c and $1. Guaranteed or price refunded.

Two Pointed Questions Answered.

What is the use of making a better article than your competitor if you can not get a better price for it?

Ans.—As there is no difference in the price the public will buy only the better, so that while our profits may be smaller on a single sale they will be much greater in the aggregate.

How can you get the public to know your make is the best?

If both articles are brought prominently before the public both are certain to be tried and the public will very quickly pass judgment on them and use only the better one.

This explains the large sale on Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. The people have been using it for years and have found that it can always be depended upon. They may occasionally take up with some fashionable novelty put forth with exaggerated claims, but are certain to return to the one remedy that they know to be reliable, and for coughs, colds and croup there is nothing equal to Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. A Work of Art.

The calendar for 1899, issued by Jos. J. Stone, the printer, is truly a work of art. It is a fine engraving of an old time darkey's cabin, an old broken wheel barrow in the chimney corner, honey-suckle vines covering one corner of the cabin, a well worn path leading to the barn and a view of the "big house" in the distance, where "ole Mars John uster live." It is all very life like and real to those who are familiar with the darkey cabin on the old plantation. The work was executed by Mr. Stone and is well done as is all work turned out by him.
